GOODWILL DRIVE — Wiley Cornelius, president of the Lemon Grove Rotary Club, shown above, will be a coordinator for the 1966 Goodwill drive, which will be Saturday county-wide, when an estimated 6,000 Boy and Cub Scouts will pick up Goodwill bags, which were handed to housewives earlier. One of these boys will be 14-year-old Eagle Scout Steven Mendenhall, of El Cajon, shown above. Homemakers are being urged to fill these bags with discarded but repairable goods, which later will be rehabilitated by the 200 handicapped workers at the Goodwill Industries for sale at marginal prices in the various Goodwill stores, one of which is located here at 3688 Grove St.

Service Club Aids Steve Veliquette

The Lemon Grove Rotary Club this week decided to give Steve Veliquette "substantial financial aid", it was announced by Rotary President Wiley Cornelius.

Steve, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean P. Veliquette, is suffering from leukemia. His father is employed as a clerk at the Lemon Grove Post Office.

A committee, formed by the Lemon Grove Kiwanis club under the chairmanship of the Lincoln. There, door prizes Rev. Jimmy Johnson, is setting up a Steve Veliquette Luekemia Day project on Dec. 3 at the site of the miniature golf course, School Ln. and prizes for low golf scores will be awarded every half hour, all day long.

The proceeds of the project will be used to help the Veliquette family defray the cost of medication which his doctor said amounted to about $25 a month—not $200 as reported in these columns last week.

His doctor has performed some sort of medical miracle by keeping the disease in check since Steve was 3½ years old. The doctor performs his services without charge.

Funds have been contributed in the past by the Help the Handicapped, Inc.—a group of handicapped people who aid those less fortunate.

Contributions are being deposited at the U.S. National Bank with Bob Dryden, bank manager.

at the County Administration Center in San Diego.

Moulton was recognized for his apprehension of two Texas men Oct. 31 near the Highway 94 and Palm Ave. cloverleaf in La Mesa.

The deputy stopped the men for questioning. According to a witness, Joseph J. Manno of San Diego, one of the men grabbed Moulton's service revolver. Moulton whipped out a derringer pistol from his waistband and shot and killed Elwood Evans, 22, an ex-convict from Texas. Evans' companion, Lawrence D. Sparrow, also 22 and from Texas, was then handcuffed by Moulton.

Representing the Spring Valley Lions were president Bob Todd and members Doug Vanice and Bob Bizzell.

Additional Bus Service Requested

A public hearing on the application of San Diego Economy Line to extend its bus service from College Grove Shopping Center in San Diego to San Ysidro has been set by the California Public Utilities Commission to begin Wednesday, Nov. 16.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in the President's Room of the Chamber of Commerce Building, 435 West Broadway, San Diego. CPUC Examiner Robert D. DeWolf will preside.

The bus company proposes to run six round trips daily between the shopping center and the Mexican Border. The route proposed runs via Lemon Grove, Spring Valley, Bonita, and Chula Vista.

All interested parties may appear and be heard at the Nov. 16 or some subsequent public hearing.

The same bus company presently is circulating petitions in the Spring Valley area to provide bus service along Jamacha Blvd. These petitions will not be affected by the Wednesday hearing.

Club Plans 7-Day Tour

A seven-day escorted tour to Mulege, Baja Calif., and Puerto Vallarta, newest "paradise of the Pacific Coast of Mexico," is planned by the Century Travel and Photographic Club of San Diego. The tour will leave Nov. 24 and return Nov. 30.

There will be guided sight-seeing tours on the Gulf of California, the Mulege River and to beauty spots in the jungle near Puerto Vallarta. Rooms and meals at luxury resorts are also included in the price of the tour.

The tour is open to the public. For further information contact Helen or Eldon Goodall, 9327 Lamar St., Spring Valley, 469-1623.

Men's Club's Next Meeting is Nov. 18

The Lemon Grove Men's Club will not meet this week. The club's next noon luncheon will be Nov. 18 at Brunswick Bowlero when the film "The World of Cousteau" will be shown.

Last Friday Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin (D-37th Congressional District) gave the club his "Washington Report."

Lighting Contest Set By Chamber

A lighting contest with plaques as prizes will be sponsored by the L.G. Chamber of Commerce this year.

The contest is free. Contestants need only to notify the chamber that they want to be judged. That may be done by telephone or letter, according to Dr. Sam Smith, Chamber president.

Rainfall Here Tops One Inch

The rain season, which starts on July 1, is well ahead of last year.

The storm this week brought .83 inches of rain Monday and an additional .23 inches Tuesday morning for a storm total of 1.06.

The total so far this season is .213 inches. Last year at this time the total was .45.

State to Recruit Youths For Job Corps Employment

An all-out recruitment drive for the Job Corps is being conducted through the rest of the year in California State Employment Service offices throughout the state to fill existing vacancies in Job Corps centers, Director of Employment Albert B. Tieburg has announced.

Federal quotas allotted to California call for the recruitment of 2,500 young men 16 through 21 years of age by the end of the year, Tieburg said. Since the start of recruitment for the Job Corps program in January 1965, approximately 5,300 youths have gone off to Job Corps training centers and conservation camps from State Employment Service offices.

Tieburg said there are many openings currently at Job Corps Training Centers, and new applicants can expect to receive their Job Corps Center assignments and depart within three weeks of the time they apply.

California youths who apply and are accepted for the Job Corps training may be assigned to any center throughout the nation, depending on the vacancies, and the type of training the youth needs, but it is expected about half of the new applicants will be assigned to centers in the far western states.

To be eligible for the Job Corps, in addition to being between the ages of 16 and 21, the youths must be out of school, out of work, and with little prospect of employment for want of needed skills.

CIRCUS ART — Buffo the Clown, Neena and Big John all will be in Lemon Grove Friday for three shows at the Mayfair Parking Lot for the fourth annual Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce-sponsored circus.

It's Circus Time In Lemon Grove

The Big John Strong Circus will present its show for the fourth time in Lemon Grove Friday with three programs on tap under the big top at the parking lot next to Mayfair Market.

The circus' appearance is under the sponsorship of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce. Shows will be at 2, 4 and 6 p.m.

Big John Strong Circus, now in its sixteenth year, has headlined state and county fairs in California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Nevada.

From the International Showtime television series and the Eastern Shrine Circus comes the stars of this year's show — the Jessicks, one of the great family names in the spangled world.

For many years they have been famous for their outstanding trapeze act. This season they have added acrobatics to the program. John Jessick bounces up stairs on his head.

Sharing the spotlight with the Jessicks is Neena, the baby elephant. This five-year-old, in her fourth season as a circus veteran, will perform with Pete, a trained llama from Peru, in a special act arranged by animal trainer Chuck Huges.

Also on the bill are performing dogs and ponies. Clown Alley is headed by the versatile "Buffo."

The show is owned and directed by ringmaster John A. Strong.

Tickets may be purchased from area merchants.

Insurance Racket Worked On Soldiers' Families

One of our better investigators, Joseph Brand Colton, the estimable attorney at law, got hot under the collar — and he did something about it.

Colton's son went into the service recently and began his duty with pride.

Then came the pressure from the insurance firm. One, in fact, sent the soldier's dad an unordered policy.

Colton, who lives in Lemon Grove, had his legalistic feathers ruffled when he learned the policy had not been ordered by his son. But when he got a demand for payment from the firm, they nearly had to scrape him off the ceiling.

So Attorney Brand complained to the Secretary of Defense, Brig. Gen. William Berg, Deputy Assistant Secretary responded with language strong enough to make it apparent that the problem is general and that it will be resolved.

Said Gen. Berg, "The Department of Defense has long been concerned over this type of solicitation of next of kin of military personnel. We have objected to this type of selling and have made our displeasure known on many occasions to parents of servicemen, members of Congress, better business bureaus, chambers of commerce, state insurance commissioners and the insurance industry."

"Several companies, including the United National Life Insurance Co., have been reported to the United States Post Office Department and to the Federal Trade Commission since the offer to buy involves use of the mails and other practices outside the jurisdiction of the Department of Defense."

"On December 2, 1965 the Department of Defense took action to suspend the on-base solicitation and allotment privileges of the United National Life Insurance Co. I understand that the Federal Trade Commission is in the process of an investigation into the activities of the company and I have been advised that the insurance department of the State of Arizona is currently considering action with regard to the Company."

"The Department of Defense does not furnish a list of names of military members and their next of kin to insurers or any other commercial enterprise. Moreover, such releases are forbidden by military service regulations and substantiated incidences would lead to punishment. The insurers claim they get the names of newly inducted personnel from newspaper clipping services which compile such lists and sell them for a fee," Gen. Berg concluded.

We bet the insurance firm is going to be sorry it put the name of our intrepid investigator Joseph Brand Colton on its sucker list.

High Cost of Marketing

The day of the supermarket prize gimmick is about over. Housewives are rebelling against high food prices and in many communities they are picketing. For a few days their efforts will be effective — then prices will rise again.

One of the casualties in the rebelling will be trading stamps and giveaway gimmicks. This is a rather small loss.

Redemption store merchandise must be paid for by someone — and you know who — but the consumer is also restricted as to choice.

Giveaways are fine but they have not yet repealed the law of economics by which someone has to lose if there is a winner.

Food prices may slump as a direct result of the revolt, but once the uprising is put down, prices will rise again.

They will rise because food marketing, which attracts more individual daily sales than any other business, is cold and clinical. In order to make millions for stockholders while

St. Philip's to Hold Carnival

The youth group at St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Lemon Grove will hold a Fall Carnival Saturday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on the church grounds.

There will be carnival rides, games, prizes, snow cone and cotton candy. A hot dog stand will operate from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Dinner will be served in the education building from 5 to 7 p.m.

All proceeds will go toward mission work. Other youth groups participating in the carnival include those from St. James of La Jolla, St. Paul's of San Diego and the Church of the Good Shepherd in Bonita.

'Fantasticks' to Open In San Diego Friday

"The Fantasticks," the off-Broadway musical comedy hit, now in its 7th year in New York, 3rd year in San Francisco and a successful 20 week run this summer in Mission Valley, is opening Friday in its new quarters, "The Purple Onion," 10th and University, next door to "Mickie Finn's."

Keith Rockwell, owner of "The Purple Onion" in San Francisco where Phyllis Diller, the Smothers Brothers, the Kingston Trio and Jim Nabors all started their careers, and producer of "The Fantasticks," is now associated with Fred E. Finn, star of NBC-TV's "Mickie Finn Show" and owner of America's No. 1 Speakeasy, "Mickie Finn's."

"The Purple Onion" (formerly known as "Freckles") affiliated with "The Purple Onion" in San Francisco and Fred and Mickie Finn has been newly decorated to fit the mood of "The Fantasticks."

Hobo Party Scheduled

The "Junior", 4th, 5th and 6th graders of the First Baptist Church of Spring Valley will attend a "Hobo" party Friday from 4:30-6:30 p.m. in the social hall of the church.

Sunday is "World Fellowship" day and special offerings will be taken in American Baptist churches around the world to help the various American Baptist facilities in many foreign countries. A guest minister is being asked to bring the Sunday message, as the new pastor will not assume his duties until early in December.

Deacons and deaconesses of the church are requesting better attendance at the prayer meetings, Wednesdays at 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Mortals, Immortals Is Text Title

The Apostle Paul's declaration, "Ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you," is the Golden Text of this week's Christian Science Lesson—Sermon titled "Mortals and Immortals." The lesson will be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

The denominational textbook includes the following:

"The manifestation of God through mortals is as light passing through the window-pane. The light and the glass never mingle, but as matter, the glass is less opaque than the walls. The mortal mind through which Truth appears most vividly is that one which has lost much materiality—much error—in order to become a better transparency for Truth. Then, like a cloud melting into thin vapor, it no longer hides the sun."

Methodists Slate Inquirers Session

This Sunday

The poet, T. S. Eliot, has written the following epitaph for our culture: "Here were decent godless people; their only monument the asphalt road and a thousand lost golf balls." This emptiness cannot be filled with frenzied activity. Fullness and meaning of life can only come when one is claimed by God's dynamic will-to restoration for man in Christ.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

by James Hardison

Movies have an attraction in all languages. A popular pastime in Mexico is the "cine" (movie). Through government control, entrance fees for most of the "cines" in Mexico is equivalent to forty cents in U.S. currency. Remember the good old days when we could go to the "cine" for thirty-five or forty cents?

Next week there is a "cine" in San Diego about Mexico. It is designed to show the interesting and colorful cities and customs of that Spanish speaking country. Our readers are invited to join in on the fun. The showing begins at 7 p.m. on the 18th of November in the executive dining room of General Dynamics Convair on Highway 101 near Sassafras St. There is no cost for this "cine." Our readers may make reservations or obtain information about the "cine" by calling 276-5805.

When you attend a regular "cine" in a Spanish speaking country you will want to go up to the ticket office and say "Boleto, por favor." (Ticket, please). The attendant may ask "Cuantos?" (How many?). If you want one, you will say "Uno, no mas." (One only).

The above expressions are found in today's lesson. Read them over and practice saying them with the two minute recorded voice when you dial 276-2762.

Important Expressions:

Say "Boleto, por favor." (boh-LEH-toh pohr fah-VOHR) for "Ticket, please."

Say "Cuantos?" (koo-AHN-tohs) for "How many?"

Cine Expressions: Say "Le gusta el cine?" (leh GOOS-tah ehl SEE-neh) for "Do you like the movie?"

Say "Me gusta el cine." (meh GOOS-tah ehl SEE-neh) for "I like the movie."

Other Expressions: Say "Es cinco pesos." (ehs SEEN-koh PEH-sohs) for "It is five pesos."

Say "No es caro." (noh ehs KAH-reh) for "It is not expensive."

WHAT'S DOING?

MAY I HELP YOU?

The Telephone Business Office in Grossmont Center was planned for the convenience of our customers in the La Mesa, Lemon Grove, and Spring Valley area. We want to be of service. Whenever you have any question about telephone service, or your phone bill, stop in if you are near by, or if it is more convenient call 466-3201 and ask to speak to your Service Representative. She is there for just these reasons — to answer your questions and to help you. She is quick and knowledgeable and will do her best to see that your service is taken care of just the way you want.

In a California newspaper I recently read this account of American ingenuity. A Southern California nightclub operator, bound hand and foot by robbers, dialed the local Information number—with his nose! Said he tried "0" for Operator but couldn't quite make it. "Information" sent police in a hurry to the man who had found help fast with Direct Nose Dialing.

Here's an important phone number to remember: "Zenith 1-2000." To report a traffic accident or any other highway emergency, in an unincorporated area and on freeways, dial Operator and ask for "Zenith 1-2000." This number, which is listed in the front of your phone book, will put you in touch with the nearest California Highway Patrol office and should be used only to report accidents in unincorporated areas and on most freeways.

Mt. Miguel High to Present Annual Fashion Show Nov. 17

by Judi Mayors

The Senior Homemaker Department of Mount Miguel High School will present its annual fashion show Nov. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Students will model their own creations made during homemaker classes. Among the models will be one of the current foreign exchange students at the school, Claud Petit, of France. Styles will include formal, school attire and sportswear.

More than just showing their handiwork, models will demonstrate the basic techniques of good grooming. They will illustrate how to dress appropriately for the Senior Banquet, how to dress up—as well as down—a basic garment, how the same material can be given individuality by the use of various patterns, and how the newest fashions can be worn with a flair. Paper mache accessories made by the models will also be worn.

"Hypnotic Fashions" is the theme this year, to tie in with special guest Dr. Neil Barton, hypnotist, who will perform immediately following the fashion show. Dr. Barton was last year's guest performer at the Senior Banquet and the Fiesta.

Hats used in the fashion show will be furnished by Normandie Hats of College Grove. Prizes will be donated by Lemon Grove merchants.

"The event is open to the public," Mrs. Betty Womack, chairman of the Homemaker Department, said. "We hope to have a full house again this year."

Tickets will be on sale in the quad during both lunches for 75¢ or at the door for $1.

Car Financing Tips Given

"Whether or not you get a good buy on an automobile may depend on how the purchase is financed," Helen Nelson, state consumer counsel said today.

She listed a number of car financing tips, and also gave one glaring example of what not to do. The example involved a 53-year-old woman with two teenage children and a husband with a heart condition who draws a small old-age pension.

The woman needed a dependable car to continue her job as a domestic worker. She could not afford a down payment but had a 1959 auto for a trade-in.

"She went to a dealer who offered to sell her a new car by consolidating her house and car payments so that she would have a smaller monthly payment than her house payment alone," Mrs. Nelson explained. "The car dealer told her he would take care of everything." With this assurance, the woman drove her new car home.

Dealer Backs Out

Two months later, according to Mrs. Nelson, the dealer told the woman that the loan he had promised to arrange had fallen through, that she could not return the car, and that she must obtain her own financing. The dealer referred her to several mortgage loan companies. Based on a copy of the contract in Mrs. Nelson's files, one of these companies made the following loan arrangement:

Check sent to dealer for price of car $2,437.80
Cash to applicant 64.69
Fees, commission, charges for securing second trust deed on woman's home 597.51
Total $3,100.00
The contract calls for 36 monthly payments of $40 each, plus the balance of the loan on the 37th month.

"Unfortunately," Mrs. Nelson said, "this woman did not realize that after making $1,440 in monthly payments, she will be faced with one final payment of $2,529."

Mrs. Nelson was careful not to imply that the contract was illegal. "It appears to be valid as long as it cannot be demonstrated that it was entered into under conditions of fraud," she said.

First Rule

Mrs. Nelson's first rule for financing a car or borrowing money is "know the cost of the loan and the interest rate before you sign a contract."

But she admitted that rates and charges are often so complicated that many buyers end up saying "what's the use," and let a car dealer arrange financing.

"You can often save money by arranging your own financing through a credit union or bank," Mrs. Nelson said.

A study (published in 1961 by two University of California researchers) of auto purchases made by 105 San Francisco Bay Area families demonstrates the value of shopping for credit.

Four of five families studied did not check any source of credit other than car dealers. They paid a median rate of 22.9 per cent for interest. The families who shopped around for credit paid a median rate of 12 per cent, the study reported.

"Rarely does a person get a car loan for less than 10 per cent," said Mrs. Nelson.

She explained that a so-called "6 per cent bank loan" is about 11 per cent when converted to true annual interest. "The legal maximum finance rate for auto installment sales is about 22 per cent per year," she said.

CSBA Meet

operating on a fraction of a cent profit, it must be unemotional.

Housewives have been goaded in the battle by self-seeking politicians. Politicians lay a claim that prize gimmicks and stamps are the cause of the high prices. Unquestionably, this is partly true because the prizes must be paid for out of profits developed from the consumer. The politician diverts attention from the fact that it is he, who created runaway prices. He is government and government, for example, has been buying and dumping potatoes for years. At the same time government set minimum prices on potatoes until now they have been priced into the luxury food class.

The housewives' revolt may have a momentary effect on supermarkets but it won't change government policy.

Gimmicks and stamps, which are beginning to become unpopular as the women begin to view them as part of the high cost problem, are power plays one market chain uses against the other to attract the family paycheck. In the highly competitive market industry, it is not enough to be popular, they've got to be lethal. By killing off competition that can be killed, one group feels it may survive another period — until a greater force, in turn, kills it off.

Killed markets do not close. All the action takes place at the directors' conference table. Usually, mergers are the form of market death.

We are reminded of independent markets that existed here several years ago (and a few still exist). One in particular had the exclusive franchise for a popular trading stamp. A super wanted the exclusive rights. The super chain, being bigger than the stamp firm, pressured the stamp people into cutting off the little guy's stamps. The independent promptly and properly sued but the big boys brought up high powered attorneys and the little guy, by his own testimony, succumbed because of the high cost of court action and the many hours it took him from his business. The stamps, which set him apart from his super-market competitor, were now working for the big boy. The little guy went out of business.

Maybe he, and his counterparts, are getting some sense of satisfaction out of the uprising that is now in progress.

The revolt, of course, was not generated by trading stamps — but the stamps are sharing some of the blame.

Know Your United Crusade

Q. I don't like one of the organizations supported by the United Crusade. Why should I give?

A. That's understandable, but is it fair to penalize all the other services just because you don't like one? No single service can meet all community needs, and certainly no service would receive all of your contribution. United Crusade supports a wide variety of important services. Remember, every organization must convince a practical and impartial committee of volunteers that it is doing skillful and needed job before it is admitted for United Crusade funding.

Q. Why should I give to the United Crusade? Isn't the Government's Poverty Program going to take care of these needs?

A. Government shouldn't do everything. Voluntary organizations can't do everything. Public and private organizations must work together. The voluntary agreement is an ingredient of the American way of life, the free enterprise system at its best, people helping people through voluntary organizations. People will be better served by a partnership of public and private services. "Poverty programs" are attempts to get at specific pockets of conditions that create poverty. These are programs designed to help people help themselves. Many, many voluntary agencies are being utilized. However, the poverty programs are for new programs in addition to regular member organization programs. Funds from the Economic Opportunity Act cannot be used to substitute for any private or public funds now being used to provide health and welfare services.

Q. What if I can't afford to give?

A. This is your decision to make. However, most of us fritter away nickels on non-essentials and only a nickel a day is over $18.00 a year through your United Crusade pledge. Your contribution does not have to be a single cash payment. You can pledge to pay in installments over an extended period, usually a year. If you have payroll deduction at work, such installment giving is easily arranged.

High school students must be documented, and essays must be typed, doubled spaced, on one side only. The reverse side of each sheet must show the name, address, grade and school of the student. Tokars stated the contest would begin Nov. 15 with an April 15 deadline for submitting the essays to the committee.

"We are channeling all of the essay information through each school's journalism department," Tokars said, "and look forward to generating the type of material which can be used for later publication by our committee." Tokars emphasized that essays should be done in a style which would stimulate interest in San Diego's cultural heritage from Spain.

All essay materials submitted in the contest will become the property of San Diego 200th Anniversary, Inc. Essays will be judged by a committee headed by Dr. A. P. Nasatir, San Diego State College instructor and world-wide authority on Latin American History.

At the same time government set minimum prices on potatoes until now they have been priced into the luxury food class.

The housewives' revolt may have a momentary effect on supermarkets but it won't change government policy.

Gimmicks and stamps, which are beginning to become unpopular as the women begin to view them as part of the high cost problem, are power plays one market chain uses against the other to attract the family paycheck. In the highly competitive market industry, it is not enough to be popular, they've got to be lethal. By killing off competition that can be killed, one group feels it may survive another period — until a greater force, in turn, kills it off.

Killed markets do not close. All the action takes place at the directors' conference table. Usually, mergers are the form of market death.

We are reminded of independent markets that existed here several years ago (and a few still exist). One in particular had the exclusive franchise for a popular trading stamp. A super wanted the exclusive rights. The super chain, being bigger than the stamp firm, pressured the stamp people into cutting off the little guy's stamps. The independent promptly and properly sued but the big boys brought up high powered attorneys and the little guy, by his own testimony, succumbed because of the high cost of court action and the many hours it took him from his business. The stamps, which set him apart from his super-market competitor, were now working for the big boy. The little guy went out of business.

Maybe he, and his counterparts, are getting some sense of satisfaction out of the uprising that is now in progress.

The revolt, of course, was not generated by trading stamps — but the stamps are sharing some of the blame.

Service Notes

Marine Corps Accepts Limited IQ Applicants

The Marine Corps Recruiting Service in El Cajon is accepting qualified young men for enlistment in the U.S. Marine Corps who possess a limited mental capacity (low I.Q.). Under present recruiting policies, ten percent of the Marine Corps Recruiting quota must be Mental Group IV applicants. Those men who have scored or can score between 16 and 30 on the Armed Forces Qualification Test are considered to be in Mental Group IV. If this quota is not met then the Marine Corps must call on the Selective Service System for young men in Mental Group IV. The Marine Corps has traditionally been known as a volunteer, rugged mans outfit.

Many excellent jobs are available in the Marine Corps for men with lower mental capacities. For further information contact Master Sergeant John Manion or Staff Sergeant Mike Hawes at 354 N. Magnolia Ave., El Cajon, or call 44-5794.

Graduates As Nurse

Kay Susan Keeton, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Keeton of 2990 Cypress, Lemon Grove, was among the 202 young women who took part in the traditional "capping" ceremony marking their successful completion of the first summer in the Los Angeles County General Hospital's School of Nursing.

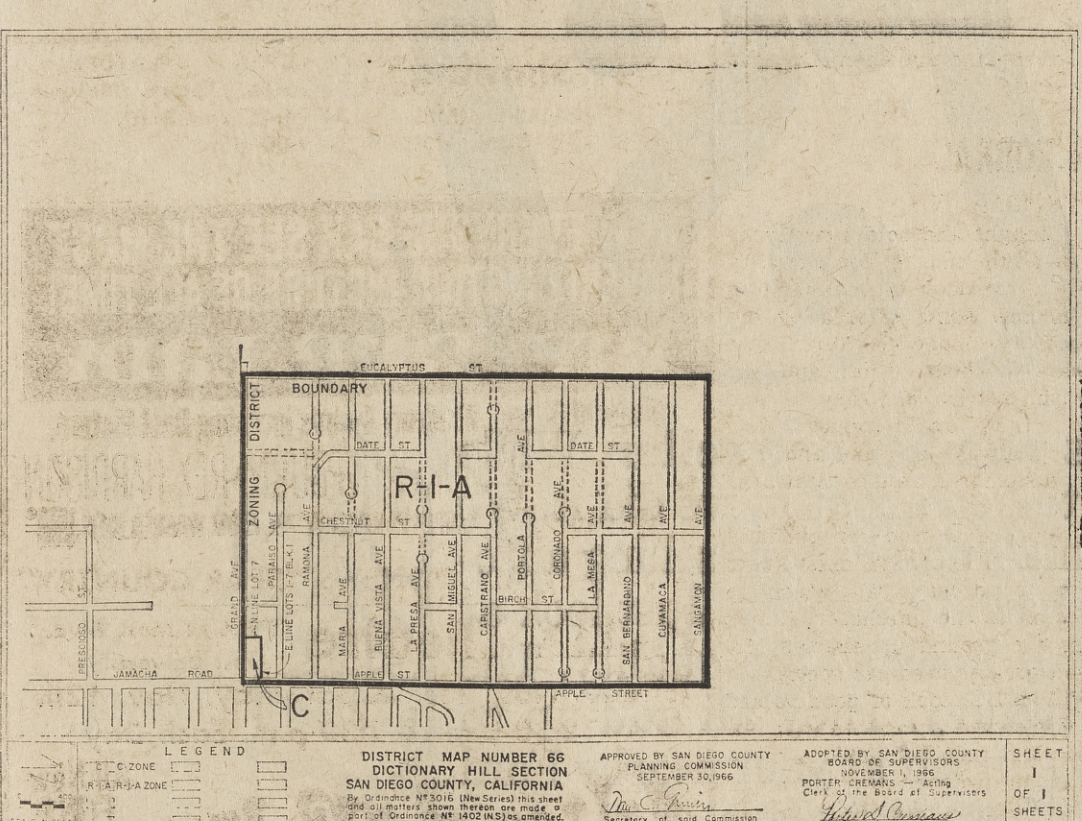

This class also includes seven male students who were awarded the Maltese Cross pin. Both cap and pin symbolize the excellent standards of nursing care required of the professional nurse.

Miss Mary O. Martnett, director of the school, said the class of 209 is the largest ever admitted at General Hospital. More than 50 percent of the class has had previous college work. In February of 1969 this class will be eligible for California State Board examinations to become registered nurses.

Miss Martnett said General Hospital School of Nursing has graduated more than 4,000 students, and is an important source of registered nurses of California, as well as in neighboring states. It is the largest hospital school west of the Mississippi.

Applicants for admission to the Los Angeles County General Hospital School of Nursing must have completed high school and have had one year of chemistry, or one semester of college chemistry. Applicants are admitted on the basis of pre-entrance testing, school transcripts, letters of recommendation and physical examination. Nursing students take required science courses at East Los Angeles College concurrently with nursing courses in General Hospital.

Board of Education to Consider Request For Increased State Aid to Schools

by Education News Service

A request that the State Legislature increase state support for public education by a whopping 35 to 40 per cent is being considered by the State Board of Education and the State Department of Education.

The suggested increase, which amounts to $350 to $400 million annually, is part of a series of preliminary proposals of school finance needs being "discussed and explored" by the Department and its advisory committee on finance.

Ronald W. Cox, associate superintendent of public instruction, told the State Board at its October meeting that the increase would provide for a reduction of the burden on the property taxpayer. He said it would also bring the state's share of school support up to 50 per cent, as both candidates for governor have recommended.

State Share

The state's share today, Cox disclosed, is only 38 per cent, compared to 56.7 per cent now carried by the local property tax.

Another proposal being considered for presentation to the Legislature, Cox said, is the establishment of an automatic adjustment factor so that the state will participate in sharing of school expenses caused by increasing costs of education and by inflation.

Cox lists a series of needs which he thinks should be considered in the Department's 1967 recommendations to the Legislature:

- "There is a need to move forward with more state support to achieve reduction in class size."
- "There is a need to strengthen the kindergarten program."
- "There is a need to continue and increase the incentive for unified districts. Too many small, inefficient districts exist, unable to deliver an adequate educational program."
- "There is a need to consider ways to provide for a more uniform tax effort among the districts of the state for educational purposes."

Cox says a specific school finance program, much of it based on the needs he has outlined, will be ready for presentation to the Legislature in January.
